

DNHY1106 - Head and Neck Anatomy

Credits:	2 (2/0/0)
Description:	This course covers the study of hard and soft tissues of the head and neck including the skeletal, muscular and nervous systems, with particular emphasis on the masticatory system.
Prerequisites:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Acceptance into the dental hygiene program</li></ul>
Corequisites:
Pre/Corequisites*:
Competencies:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Identify cranial and facial bones.</li><li>2. Identify foramina and state which nerve passes through each one.</li><li>3. List the muscles of facial expression, mastication, and the tongue.</li><li>4. Identify cranial nerves and the muscles and structures each one innervates.</li><li>5. List the chain of lymph drainage for all oral structures.</li><li>6. Identify blood supply to the head and neck.</li><li>7. Name the various parts of the temporal mandibular joint.</li><li>8. Name the major salivary glands and their associated ducts.</li></ol>
MnTC goal areas:	None

**Can be taking as a Prerequisite or Corequisite.*