

DNHY1106 - Head and Neck Anatomy

Credits:	2 (2/0/0)
Description:	This course covers the study of hard and soft tissues of the head and neck including the skeletal, muscular and nervous systems, with particular emphasis on the masticatory system.
Prerequisites:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Acceptance into the dental hygiene program</li> </ul>
Corequisites:
Pre/Corequisites*:
Competencies:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Identify cranial and facial bones.</li> <li>2. Identify foramina and state which nerve passes through each one.</li> <li>3. List the muscles of facial expression, mastication, and the tongue.</li> <li>4. Identify cranial nerves and the muscles and structures each one innervates.</li> <li>5. List the chain of lymph drainage for all oral structures.</li> <li>6. Identify blood supply to the head and neck.</li> <li>7. Name the various parts of the temporal mandibular joint.</li> <li>8. Name the major salivary glands and their associated ducts.</li> </ol>
MnTC goal areas:	None

*Can be taking as a Prerequisite or Corequisite.