

HLTH1005 - Introduction to Medical Terminology

Credits:	1 (1/0/0)
Description:	The course introduces the building of medically rooted words, including prefixes and suffixes. A foundation is created for the continued development of medical and health vocabulary for students desiring programs in health-related fields. The student learns to spell, pronounce, define, analyze and formulate terminology related to body structure, disease process, diagnosis and treatment.
Prerequisites:
Corequisites:
Pre/Corequisites*:
Competencies:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Define health-related prefixes, suffixes and combining forms. 2. Spell and pronounce medical terminology. 3. Define body organization and directional terms.
MnTC goal areas:	None

*Can be taking as a Prerequisite or Corequisite.