

NURS1416 - Nursing Fundamentals II

Credits:	4 (2/2/0)
Description:	This course prepares students to provide safe, therapeutic nursing care to diverse patient populations across the age span. The course also integrates the content and skills necessary to promote and maintain health and wellness of the gastrointestinal, metabolic, immune, hematologic, cardiovascular, respiratory and urinary systems as well as fluid and electrolyte balance.
Prerequisites:	 BIOL2260 BIOL2261 BIOL2268 Current American Heart Association Basic Life Support Current, clear national background check Current, clear Minnesota Department of Health criminal background check ENGL1101 Experience as a nursing assistant as guided by the generic ADN application packet NURS1400 NURS1406 PSYC2222 Up-to-date immunizations and health form
Corequisites:
Pre/Corequisites*:
Competencies:	 Apply teaching and learning principles in health promotion, maintenance and/or restoration of health across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote gastrointestinal wellness across the age span. Demonstrate skills related to the gastrointestinal system across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote immunological wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote metabolic wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote hematological wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote cardiovascular wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote urinary wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote respiratory wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote respiratory wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote fluid/electrolyte/acid/base wellness across the age span. Examine nursing care to maintain and promote fluid/electrolyte/acid/base wellness across the age span. Demonstrate basic skills related to infusion therapy across the age span.

NURS1416

MnTC goal areas:

*Can be taking as a Prerequisite or Corequisite.

