WMST1136 - Global Perspectives of Women

| Credits:                        | 3 (3/0/0)  |
|---------------------------------|--|
| Description:                    | Meets MNTC Goal Areas 6 and 8. This course examines the present-day realities of women's lives around the world.   |
| Prerequisites:                  |  |
| Corequisites:                   | • ENGL1101   |
| Pre/Corequisites * : |  |
| Competencies:                   | <ol> <li>Demonstrate an awareness of 20th and 21st century cultural contributions by women basedon societal setting.</li> <li>Understand systems of privilege and inequality in a variety of societies and their impact onwomen's lives.</li> <li>Recognize the intersections of gender, race, and class and other categories of difference.</li> <li>Analyze specific global issues that affect women's cultural contributions.</li> <li>Demonstrate knowledge of cultural, social, religious, and political difference and how thesedifferences impact women's lives.</li> <li>Understand the role of a world citizen and the responsibility world citizens share for theglobal future of women.</li> <li>Evaluate issues of discrimination from a women's studies perspective.</li> <li>Consider a society's attitudes, behaviors, concepts, and beliefs regarding women.</li> <li>Explore personal ethical views on issues surrounding gender and culture.</li> <li>Describe how a women's studies perspective differs from other academic perspectives,such as sociology, psychology, and anthropology.</li> </ol> |
| MnTC goal areas:                | 6. The Humanities and Fine Arts8. Global Perspective   |

*Can be taking as a Prerequisite or Corequisite.